

WE'RE FIGHTING BACK!

We're fighting back against cuts to vital public services, including post-secondary education.

We're fighting back against attacks on our working conditions and wages.

We're fighting back against attacks on our constitutional right to bargain.

The Alberta government's MacKinnon Report is bad news for Albertans who rely on public services.

Bill 9, the Public Sector Wage Arbitration Deferral Act, is bad news for workers.

The good news is: AUPE members and allies are angry and we're fighting back.

- We're fighting on the streets with information pickets across the province.
- We're fighting in the courts with legal challenges to this unfair attack.

Please join us at the next AUPE information picket at your worksite during your non-work time. The louder our voices, the more our message will be heard that it's unfair to break contracts with workers while giving billions of dollars in tax cuts to corporations.
